The Army of the Railroads.

The Industrial Commission has issued report on railway labor in the United: States. It shows that railway employees in this country constitute an army of nearly 1,000,000 people, with probably nearly 5,000,000 people dependent upon the wages paid by railroads. The report states that for years to come the railroads will absorb an increasing number of employees. The maority of the roads, the report says, are developing a system of discipline by which they avoid suspensions and encourage loyal, personal service, and thus promote lietter relations between employer and employed. A general tendency manifest on the part of the roads to exercise greater care in the maintenance of their labor force and in its mprovement is noted.

The report urges some legislative limitations of the fellow-servant principle or doctrine of common employment.

Demand for Apartment Houses. In view of the enormously increased activity in building apartment houses in New York in the last three years, the statement of real estate dealers that the supply is still inadequate to the demand is significant. Moreover, prices of apartments have increased very materially. An average apartment, as the average was five years ago, might have rented for from $800 to $1,000. Apartments that are now merely "average apartments" rent for nearly twice as much. Of course, they are much more attractive and convenient. Not only is better taste shown in designing them, but more money is spent in finishing them. For the best apartments in New York one must pay six or eight times that amount of rent -New York Sun.

Its winters are mild and balmy and in the most cases Summer does not bring with it such extremes of heat as are to be found elsewhere. In fact, the South is a land where extremes of cli mate are avoided, and consequently, is a healthful and altogether desirable loeation.

The tide of emigration has turned Southward, for it is not alone in climatic advantages that this favored land excels, but its resources, the fertility of its soil and its mineral wealth and aboudant water power commend it to the thoughtful consideration of any one who seeks a home where Northern thrift and enterprise may carve out success.

NAMES THAT ARE POPULAR.

Place. Parents display some queer notions of propriety in naming their children. Those of a religious turn of mind more frequently in former times than now searched the Scriptures before the baptismal ceremony. Parents in search of a fortune will label their luckless babes with the surname of the expected testator. But, nevertheless, the list of common English Christian names is a very small one. Out of every 100 fathers and mothers of male children some 84 limit their choice to 15 familfar names.

The favorite name is undoubtedly William. In all ranks of society-in the peerage as in the workhouse-William is the commonest of male Christian names.

Stop the first 1,000 men you meet in the street. No fewer than 170 are Williams. A long way behind comes the Johns, closely followed by the Georges. Of every 1,000 men 94 are called John and 92 George.

The next commonest name is Thomas, which has 74 owners, woile James claims 72. Henry and Harry between them are 70 in number. Of these about one in four have received the name of Harry at the haptismal font. Following them come Frederick with 57, Charles with 48, Alfred with 45 and Albert some way behind with 31. The popularity of Albert has arisen entirely from the personal popularity of the late queen's beloved consort. It was practically unknown in England before Queen Victoria's marriage. The good old Saxon appellation of Edward is given to 25 out of every 1,000 citizens, Arthur and Robert having each 23, while of the remainder of these 1.000 men you have accosted in the street 17 are called Joseph and 15 Herbert. So we have accounted for no fewer than 856 out of every 1,000 Englishmen, and they divide between them only 15 out of the many hundreds, may thousands, of names from which parents are at liberty to choose.

A favorite way of betting in China is with oranges. This goes on at the truit stalls and also in private houses. The bet is on the number of seeds in an orange. Sometimes it is as to whether the number is odd or even and at others as to the exact number of seeds the orange contains. become famous for the beautiful shade trees which line its streets, have noticed recently that many big, sturdy trees have withered and become lifeless without apparent cause or injury. These trees were not confined to any one variety nor was any single locality alone affected. Horticultural experts examined the dead trees to see If they had become affected by insects or rust, but nothing of the kind was found. Then Samuel B. Parsons, a veteran nurseryman, was asked to make an investigation. He reported: "The condition of the trees indicates that they have been killed by illuminating gas which has escaped through the mains in the streets and has found its way to the roots. In several cases where the dirt has been dug up around the roots of the dead trees there has been a strong odor of gas. If a similar test was made with all the dead trees the same odor would be discovered. I do not know of anything else that would kill the trees." Most of the trees were planted more than fifty years ago. At the present rate, however, Mr. Parsons says he fears that all of them will be killed within five or six years. The same cause he says has killed many of the trees planted in Manhattan. Another nurseryman said spring," said he. "we planted six trees in front of a residence here. All the trees budded, but just as they were about to put forth leaves one of them died. We replaced it, but when we pointed them. strong smell of gas. The second tree planted also died. Then we made a complaint to the gas company and found that not fifty feet away there was a leak in the gas main." The managers of the Flushing gas plant declare that they are not to blame for the destruction of the trees. They say that there are dead trees on streets where there are no gas mains. The Flushing Association has promised to employ one of the best experts in the country to examine the trees.-New York Sun.

MEER-KATS AS BRITISH PETS. A new sort of pet, for which the Boer war is responsible, has been introduced into England and may be expected to make its appearance in this cat at all, but a species of animal known to science as "suricate." They are insect-feeding animals, allied to the icheumons, and live on the veldt, their regular food consists of insects, they will kill small birds and eat their eggs when they get a chance, which is not often. They are intelligent little creatures, full of curiosity, and can be taught a variety of tricks. They have a short, sharp bark, not unlike that of a dog, and when on the move, as they generally are, they "give tongue" like a hound on the scent. These little pets can be taken out for a walk. when they will follow like a dog, running and skipping about, but always keeping within sight and call of their master. They live on good terms with both dogs and cats, and seem to partake of the nature of both. They stand a change of climate well, except that in northern lands they are apt to become afflicted with rheumatism. In those times all sorts of animals could be seen feeding on these grassy plains, from the great rhinocerous to these little meer-kats. A number of these meer-kats have been sent to England by officers and men of the British forces in South Africa, and they are getting to be familiar figures now in British households. EFFECT OF SMALL THINGS.

Mothers have you ever thought how much small things influence a child's life? The Mayor of Gurdon delivered an address of welcome to the conference and told the members of it that the duty of making the laws and executing them was in the hands of the white folks and that the white folks should also explain the laws to the colored people, and not let them go astray, and when he had finished I thought Bishop Tyree was going to eat him up head and body, and that white man turned red and white and blue and green in the face, for a few minutes his face was simply a rainbow. Bishop Tyree reminded bini that if a hog was asked about the laws, etc., he would say the same thing that the Mayor had said. I never heard such a speech before in

Now this week. I want to present to yon Mrs. T. S. Sandefur, a woman who has been able to hold her own. Her mother and father died when she was a young girl leaving her in this sin-cursed world to work out her own future. She went to school as much as possible, holding up the highest womanbood. Today she is the wife of the leading young preacher in the State, and president of the great Sunday School Convention, I mean to say that her busband is president and she goes side by side With him is his pastorial work. I present you with her picture this week and hope you will study the face and see she has accomplished for God and the race. I have said enough for this week and next week or while you are reading this I will be in the State Convention in Fort Smith.

Monumental Literary.

The largest crowd of the season was present at the Monumental Literary and cientific Association at Sharp Street Memorial Church. The president, W. Ashbie Hawkins was in the chair, Mrs. Hunter rendered a vocal rolo; Mrs. Love Wilson-Smith, and instrumental solo, and the paper for discussion was delivered by Mr. Howard Milton Gross. The discussion was very entertaining and was engaged in by Messrs, William H. Daniels, W. T. McGuinn, Heber E. Wharton, Howard E. Young, Mason A. Hawkins, and Dr. John W. Prather.

This famous institution is fast regaining the hold which it had upon our people ten years ago. The audiences are composed of our best people, the papers are carefully prepared by some of our most intelligent men. The discussions are timely and interesting, and the musical numbers are rendered by some of our foremost musicians.

Peiting Brides with Flowers.

The custom of showering bridal couples with rice is as old as the monumental hills. It is sometimes attended with disagrecable results, but is still persisted in at most matrimonial functions. An improvement upon this custom which seems likely and ought to become popular was observed at a pretty wedding celebrated at Lake Geneva just before the close of the outing season. The piazzas and lawn of the bride's home were beautifully decorated with hydrangeas, which the extensive garden of the bride's home furnished in unusual profusion. The altar arranged at one end of the parlor was beautifully decorated and bowered with the same blooms mingled with ferns and evergreens. Bunches of the blossoms stood in large lars and vases in the spacious hall and banked the great fireplace. When the newly wedded pair started away in the late afternoon the guests lined the way from the house to the entrance gate of the grounds, everyone provided with hydrangeas, and through this lane of palting flowers the bridal carriage was driven. It was a postic and picturesque change from the usual rice shower .-- Chicago

BE NOT DECEIVED*

THE COLORED PEOPLE OF AMERICA.

King of all Hair Tonics,

Recognizing the fact that there are many 80-CALLED hair-growers and be used on the scalp. And, lastly, to prove our liberality, we will put in a pint hair-straighteners now on the market, and knowing to a certainty that many package of Anti-Odor, a positive cure for Sore Throat or Mouth, all forms of of these are frauds pure and simple, we wish to make a straight-forward. Womb Diseases, Chilblains, Sore and Frosted Feet; also removes all popular to the colored rose through the straight-forward. or these are frauds pure and simple, we wish to make a straight-forward, honest statement to the colored race through this great paper. In the year 1871 our late cecretary, Mrs. 8. M. Moore, through a fortunate circumstance, acquired the receipt for OZONO. It was not offered for sale or purchase to any extent until 1875, when it was put upon the market and met with marked success. After a thorough test by the colored people of that time it was pronounced an honest, legitimate remedy, true to all that was claimed for it, and worthy in every respect of the confidence of every member of the colored race, because they found it to cause the hair to grow if the coupon has this trade-mark on it, you will make no mistake. Use incliner of the coupon has this trade-mark on it, you will make no mistake. Use whenever a genuine article appears upon the market there are always a refer you to the Editor of this paper or to the Metropolitan Rank of Dick number of people who imitate and make capital out of the merits of other people's goods. Seeing our marked success, numerous firms have entered the market, offering hair-growers and hair-straighteners, many of which are worthless, causing the hair to fall out and doing great damage to the hair and scalp, and the colored people are buying these spurious compounds, the are filled with animal fats, and do the hair more harm than good. To these let us sound a warning—be careful what you use on your hair. Do not be deceived by flaring advertisements and big words. Buy the King of all Hair Tonics, Hair Tonics.

m which is sold with an iron-clad guarantee to do all that is claimed for it, or we will forfeit $50.00. Now, we ask you a plain question—would we absolutely agree to forfeit $50.00 if you are dissatisfied with our preparations, if they were not true to all we claim for them? We have advertised for several years under this guarantee, and we are glad to say that every one who has used Ozono has been satisfied in every respect.

20,000 people are to-day using our preparations, and every purchaser recommends Ozono as the King of all Hair Tonics. Ozono will positively take the Kinks out of Knotty, Kinky, Harsh, Ourly, Refractory, Troublesome Hair. It will make short, harsh hair long and straight. It will cure wour head of all itching, worrying scalp diseases. Itch, Eczema, Dandruff, and Scurf can not live after Ozono has been applied. It will stop your hair from falling out. It will restore gray hair to its natural color, making the hair long and soft.

Now, right here, let us make a statement. Many firms are advertising Tremedies to straighten hair, but when they send the preparation they tell you to use hot irons. The conflict between the Germans and Czechs in Austria-Hungary, which deserves Secretary Seward's appellation of "the irrepressible conflict," makes interesting a study of the elements composing the army of that country, which consists of 428,000 Jlays, 227,000 Allemands, 120,000 Magyars, 48,000 Roumanians and 14,000 Italians. International Lesson Comments For November 24.

Sabject: World's Temperance Lesson, Isa. v. 8-30-Golden Text, Isa. v. 22-Memory Verses, 11, 12-Commentary on the Day's Lessen.

3. "That join house to house." Covet ousness is one of the leading sins in our and at the present time. A desire to be rich, a desire to add house to house, and field to field, leads men into all sorts of wickedness and dishonest dealings. It leads to the selling of strong drink, to renting buildings for saloons and gambling dens and other unholy purposes. It is the "love of money" that is the "root of all

9. "In mine ears." That is, the Lord spoke what is to follow into the ears of the prophet. "Shall be desolate." God's curse will rest on the many houses and farms which have been acquired through penuriousness and unlawful or unboly mesns. The houses shall stand without of vineyard shall yield only about seven gallons of wine. "An homer—an ephah." The homer, or kor, was about eight bushels. An ephah was about three and one-fifth pecks. The owner would thus reap only a tenth part of the seed he had sown.

11. "Woe." Grief, sorrow, misery, a heavy calamity, a curse. "Early in the morning." When it was regarded especially shameful to drink. Acts 2: 15. Banquets for revelry began earlier than usual. Eccles. 10: 16, 17. "May follow strong drink." That they begin and continue to use it from early morn till night.
"Till wine inflame them." Until there is excited, excessive action in the blood vessels, causing them to act in excitement, in anger, or any evil way which their natures might be made to feel, under the un-natural pressure upon the forces and functions of the body. In this condition no man is able to use good judgment or to execute his work correctly.
12. "The harp." A stringed instrument of triangular figure. Music was common at ancient feasts. Amos 6: 5, 6. "The An instrument with twelve strings. rine, played on as an accompaniment to singing. "Pipe." The principal musical wind instrument of the Hebrews, consist ing of a tube with holes, like a flute or clarionet. It was made of reed, copper or bronze, and was used on all occasions in religious worship, processions, feasts and mourning. "Wine." Such as indulge in mourning. "Wine." Such as indulge in revels must have every sense gratified, for only by heing stimulated by such excitement could they at all be satisfied there. "They regard not." The most pos-itive proof that such conduct is sinful. When so filled with worldly pleasure there is no taste for anything serious. "Neither consider." In punishing the guilty.

13. "Gone into captivity." Th phet sees the future as if it were before his eyes. Those who follow after strong drink are sure to end in sorrow as though they were already fallen, with no further power to act for themselves. "Because power to act for themselves. "Because they have no knowledge." Because of their foolish recklessness in following strong drink they make drunkards of themselves. They act contrary to wisdom. They become captives because their brains are so ruined by excessive drinking that they are not capable of acting the part of prudent, careful men. "Honorable men are famished." Strong drink ruins those in honorable positions just as quickly as men of low estate. "Dried up with thirst." Both the great men and the common people suffer alike when in captivity to the cruel power of strong drink. Awful thirst follows drinking, and the burning sensation which drinking men feel is like the drying up of themse

14. "Rell hath enlarged herself." The grave, the unseen world of spirits. Not here, the place of torment. Poetically, it is represented as enlarging itself immensely in order to receive the countless hosts of Jews which should perish. "Their All their honors shall be laid in the dust. Death will put an end to all their joys. "Their multitude." Did they glory in their numbers? Their multitude shall go down to the pit. Ezek. 31: 18; 32: 32. "Their pomp." The figure they made. "He that rejoiceth." Death will turn their mirth into mourning. He that rejoices and revels, and never knows what it is to be serious, shall go where there is weeping and wailing.

15. "Mean man-mighty man-eyes of the lofty." When death overlooks this the lofty." When death overlooks this class of men, those ruined by drink, even though they come from various positions in life, then it is that they are brought low. There is no further room for boasting. Death settles the matter.

16. "Shall be exalted in judgment."

When man's glory is all passed away God is unchanged. Though men scorn His offered mercy and refuse His wise counsels He is not cast down. He is exalted. "Sanctified in righteousness." Regarded as holy by reason of His righteous deal-

"Then shall the lambs." When these are gone into captivity and swallowed up in death others shall fill their place.

18. "Iniquity." Guilt incurring punishment. "Cords of vanity." Wickedness. Rabbins says, "An evil inclination is at first like a fine hair-string, but the finishing like a cart-rope."

19. "Let him make speed." etc. They challenge the Almighty to do His worst, and set His justice at defiance.

21. "Wise in their own eyes." Those who prefer their own reasonings to divine revelations, who despise or reject the gos-pel, or who claim to have a knowledge of it, but do not practice it.

22. "Mighty to drink." Those who boast that they can drink more than others and yet be able to stand. They shall not escape the curse of drunkenness. "To mingle strong drink." To add spices to strong drink, and the count themselves trong because they can endure the effects.

strong because they can endure the effects. Their glory is their shame.

23. "Which justify the wicked for reward." Who, as judges, pervert justice and for a bribe acquit the guilty; God will punish such. "Take away the righteousness." Though a man be proven innocent, yet because he does not give a fee he is condenned by these unjust men Misser. demned by these unjust men. Misery will overtake him. 24-30. In these verses the prophet sums 24-30. In these verses the prophet sums up his terrible denunciations and shows how complete their ruin will be and how necessarily and unavoidably it will follow upon their sins. Because they had despised the word of God they should be destroyed like chaff before the fire by the foreign armies that should come upon them and described their land and described their lan them and devastate their land and carry them away captive. "Upon a guilty race, anpitied by heaven or by earth, these armies execute their commission; and leave the land desolate and dark, without one tay of comfort to cheer the horrid gloom."
